WASHINGTON, April 22.—In line with President Roosevelt's assertion that the United States "was keeping out of the wars in Europe and Asia," Democratic leaders gave every indication today of making administration foreign policy a key point in their political campaigning.

Mr. Roosevelt touched on world relations in a radio speech Saturday night to "young Democrats" rallies, in which he called for nomination by his party of "a liberal pair of candidates, running on a liberal and forward-looking platform."

Names No Candidates
The President gave no hint, however, as to what candidates might win his support in the event he does not run for a third term.His discussion of foreign affairs included the statement:
"We are keeping out of the wars but I do not subscribe to the preachment of a Republican aspirant for the presidency who tells you in effect that the United States should do nothing to try to bring about a better order of world peace when the time comes."

Politicians here expressed the belief that the "Republican aspirant" to whom he referred was Thomas E. Dewey, New York district attorney.

Senator Byrnes (D., S. C.) picked up the President's viewpoint in a statement issued through the Democratic national committee. He said that Dewey had "one foreign policy for the Atlantic seaboard and another for the middle west."

"Ignorance," says Schweikert, "Senator Schweikert (D., Wash.) told a West Virginia rally that the New Yorker's speeches 'indicate a sublime ignorance of any of the fundamentals of foreign policy.'"

Then, Postmaster General Farley told a Boston audience last night that the record of the Roosevelt administration in keeping the nation out of war was "a remarkably outstanding" one.

Farley, who has announced his unreserved candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination, has

Reserves Decision
In Liverpool Case

LISBON, April 22.—Judge W. F. Lones reserved his decision today after hearing the case of Delmar Manning of East Liverpool, who filed suit to compel Liverpool city officials to appoint him to the fire department in that city.

Manning was one of the men receiving a high grade in the civil service examinations.

Judge Lones also is withholding his decision in the case of Cecil Stillwell, former Liverpool fireman, who took the examination and received a high grade but was not appointed.

Flashes From War Fronts

MANILA, April 22.—Two destroyers of the United States Asiatic fleet, authoritative source revealed today, sped northward late Saturday to investigate activities of a British warship operating in the channel between Formosa and the Philippine islands.

Reports here said the warship was halting merchant shipping, presumably as part of the British blockade against Germany.

BRUSSELS, April 22.—A German warplane, shot down in a duel with three French fighters, crashed today at Narmont, near Neufchateau, in the Belgian province of Luxembourg.

The pilot, riddled with machine-gun bullets, was found dead in the wreckage. The remaining two members of the crew, only one of whom was injured, were interned.

ROTTERDAM, April 22.—Owners of the 951-ton Netherlands cargo ship Bernisse today announced the vessel had been sunk off the Norwegian coast on her way from Sweden to Holland with a load of ore. The crew of 18 was saved.

BASEL, Switzerland, April 2.—Switzerland today interned four German airmen and their new Dornier-21 bomber which landed at the Basel civil airport yesterday when they ran out of fuel over the French Maginot line.

DEATH SUMMONS
C. A. STOUFFERFormer Washingtonville
Mayor, Business Man,
Dies of Pneumonia

WASHINGTONVILLE, April 22.—Charles A. Stouffer, 58, former mayor of Washingtonville, died at 11:10 a. m. Sunday at his home here of complications following a short illness of pneumonia.

A life-long resident of Washingtonville, Mr. Stouffer was active in civic affairs. He served as mayor of the village in 1910, as treasurer in 1909 and clerk in 1921. He was serving his third term as a Salem township trustee at the time of his death.

Mr. Stouffer operated a cooperative store here for 16 years, serving as manager of the business until last year, when he bought it. He was born in Washingtonville Nov. 28, 1881. Mr. Stouffer was the son of David and Hannah Stouffer. He was graduated from Washingtonville High School in 1899.

Mr. Stouffer was a past master of Leetonia lodge No. 401, F. & A. M., and a member of the Leetonia chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, the Eagles lodge and the Trinity Lutheran church of Washingtonville. He served for 25 years as a member of the church council.

Surviving him are his wife, Sadie, one son, Edward of Washingtonville, and two brothers, Harry A. and George R. Stouffer of Washingtonville.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Trinity Lutheran church here in charge of Rev. George D. Keister, pastor.

A Masonic service will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the home. Burial will be in Washingtonville cemetery.

Friends may call at the home anytime.

Court of Appeals
Sitting in Lisbon

LISBON, April 22.—The district court of appeals opened its spring session here this morning with an assignment of 18 cases.

First case to be heard by Judges J. C. Nichols, William M. Carter and Elmer T. Phillips was one concerning settlement of the estate of Simon A. Shive.

Among other cases is one filed by Mrs. Susan Green of Akron, appealing a lower court decision which refused her the right to participate in industrial commission benefits.

Her husband was mysteriously killed three years ago while employed as a night watchman at the plant of the American Vitified Products Co. here. His death was never solved. He was found in the plant, dead from a blow on the back of his head.

Another case to be heard by the appellate judges is the suit of Lloyd C. Kirk, former county engineer, against the Columbiana county commissioners, seeking $2,300 in unpaid wages.

The money, Kirk contends, was paid to Robert S. Wheatley while Kirk was battling in the courts to regain the job he had lost, and then regained, as the result of an election controversy.

Takes Own Life

COLUMBUS, April 22.—Sheriff's deputies today regarded the death of Rev. Edward Stanley Wilson, 66, retired Methodist minister, as suicide. His body was found hanging from a rafter in a garage near his home here yesterday. Deputies reported he had been in ill health.

MARIETTA, April 22.—The Ohio river crested at 44.5 feet, eight and a half feet above stage here today as clean-up crews stood by waiting for the flood to recede.

The run-off was expected to start by 5 p. m.

As the crest neared Pomero, 100 winding miles downstream, seven feet of water stood in the business district. Telephone service on one side of town was disrupted by water. Business was at a standstill except for a few grocery stores in the higher districts.

See Crest at Nightfall

Pomero's 11 a. m. stage was 53.5 feet, 7.3 above flood stage and a crest of a foot higher was expected before nightfall. Rivermen said the additional foot of water would not cause further damage of force additional evacuation.

Merchants boarded up their stores and moved stock to upper floors. About 60 lowland families moved to neighbors' homes or upstairs levels.

The river at Gallipolis rose a tenth of a foot hourly from a 54.6 stage at 8:30 a. m. flood stage there is 51 feet. Residents of the eastern section of town moved from their homes. The water was highest since the disastrous 1937 flood.

WPA workers and city employees were sandbagging dike gaps at Huntington, W. Va., but damage was expected to be slight. The river stood at 54.4 feet at 9 a. m., 4.4 over flood level. Approximately 100 families living directly east and west of a partially-completed flood wall left their homes.

Pittsburgh Sees Sun

Upstream, the sun broke through the clouds at Pittsburgh where 15 of the first 21 days of April saw rain.

The Ohio was receding at Steubenville, East Liverpool, and Martins Ferry.

Rivermen generally agreed "the worst is over." Hundreds of families driven from Lowland homes upriver returned to clean up while those downstream hoped property damage would remain relatively small.

Tributary floods apparently proved most costly. Harry Metcalfe, chief highway maintenance engineer, estimated damage to roads in southern Ohio at $1,000,000. Two drownings were reported in West Virginia; swollen streams in northern Ohio claimed the lives of two children.

SYNOD RALLIES
AT COLUMBIANAEvangelical, Reformed
Churches Will Hold
Spring Session

COLUMBIANA, April 22.—The spring session of the Northeast Ohio Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed denomination opened this afternoon at Grace church with about 125 delegates in attendance. About half of these will be quartered in homes of the vicinity, the others returning to their own homes at night.

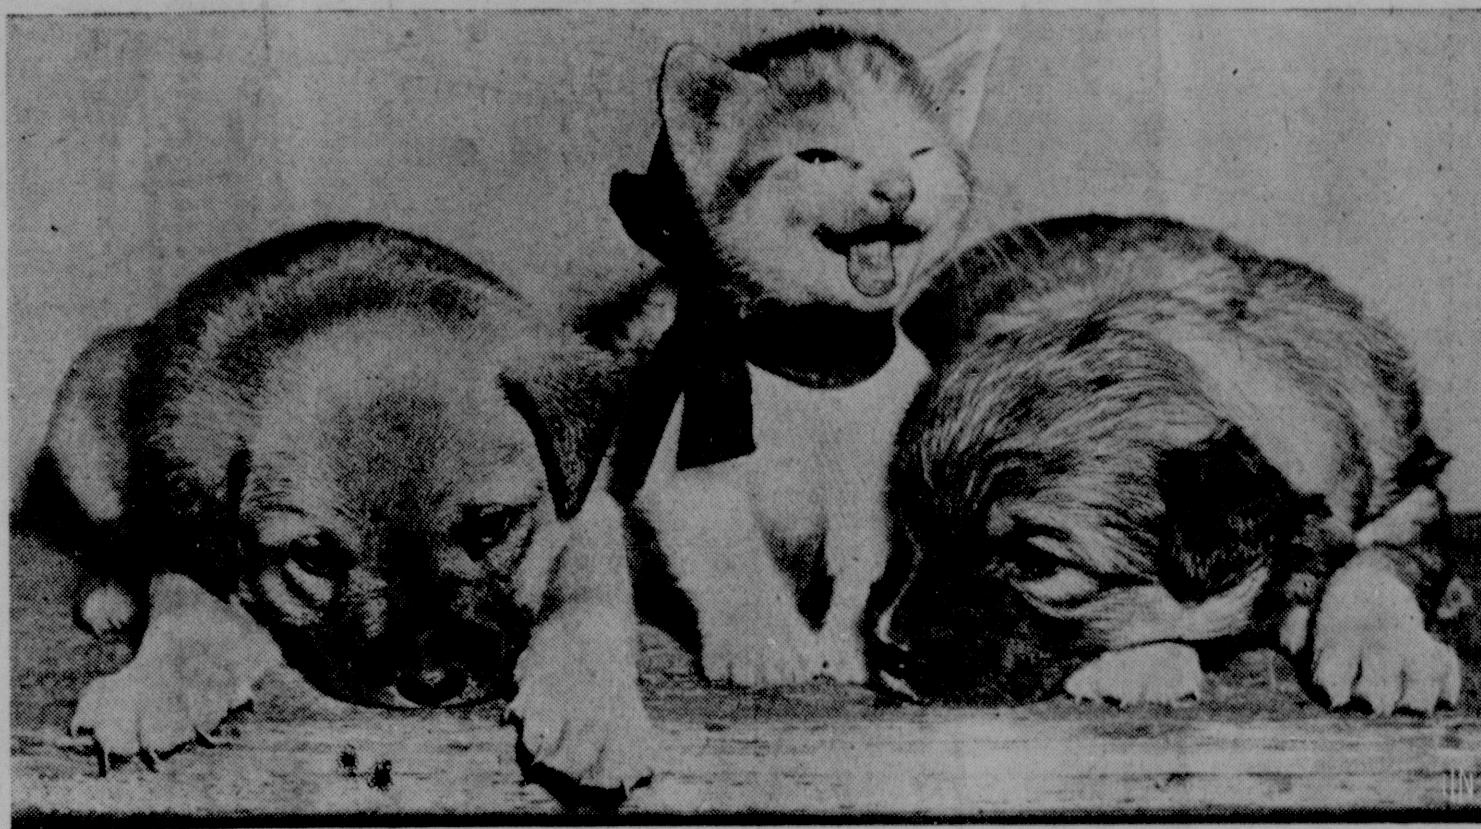

Sessions close Wednesday noon. The evening meetings, starting at 7:30, will be of interest to the general public. Tonight, Miss Alma Jungerman, Raipur, India, and Rev. George Snyder, missionary at Yuenling, China, will talk about those at counties. Paul H. Beaver, Leetonia, will preside at the organ and play three solos. The choir, under the direction of Clair King, will render the anthem, "Trust Ye In Jehovah."

Tuesday evening the speakers will be Dr. C. E. Josephson, president of Heidelberg college, Tiffin, and Dr. F. B. McAllister, pastor of the First Baptist church, Youngstown. Miss Lucille Funkhouser will preside at the organ and play special selections. The choir will sing, "O Light Eternal." Rev. C. Ralph Schmidt, Parma, will preside at the Tuesday evening session, while Rev. Oscar H. Zwilling, Cleveland, will preside tonight.

Arrangements for the entertainment of the synod locally have been in charge of Rev. W. R. Gobrecht, assisted by a committee composed of S. Richard Orr, Leo E. Holloway and William Keller.

Bridge

Five persons suffered injuries in district traffic accidents investigated by Salem state highway patrolmen over the weekend.

Three were hurt when a machine driven by John McClun, 52, of Columbiana, sideswiped a car operated by Bernard J. Korci, 38, of Alliance, on Route 14, just east of the Millville bridge, at 1:50 a. m. Sunday.

McClun, arrested by Patrolman R. K. Jones on a charge of reckless operation, was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Lloyd Culler of Washingtonville.

Georgiana Cartwright, 26, of Alliance, who was riding with Korci, suffered a possible fractured right leg, while Diana Korci, 6, received an injury to her right elbow and also suffered bruises. Mrs. John McClun, 36, of Columbiana, received lacerations to both legs.

Neither driver was injured, according to patrol reports.

A minor collision occurred at almost the same spot a few minutes afterwards when Alfred Wilkins, 28, of Alliquippa, Pa., stopped his car due to the accident ahead and was hit by a car following him, driven by Russell Shirley, 25, of Greenford.

Benjamin W. Warfield, 37, a Cleveland sports writer, and his wife, Margaret, 33, were hurt when their automobile upset on Route 14, three-quarters of a mile south of Deafield, at 7:30 a. m. Sunday.

Warfield's car failed to make the curve at the point and the machine overturned several times. State Patrolman C. W. Cate said.

Brought to Salem city hospital, he was found to have suffered a broken nose and face lacerations, and his wife, a fractured right leg and lacerations. Later in the day both were taken home from the hospital.

Three Are Arrested
On Larceny Counts

Three men were arrested by police last night on petty larceny charges in connection with thefts from a downtown grocery store.

Kenneth Zeigler, the proprietor, who called police when he found two men in his store, filed the charges against Fred Bingham, 25, Dorrance Smith, 25, and Clyde Weigand, all of Leetonia.

Weigand, who worked in the store at night as a baker, admitted letting the other men into the store at night when articles were stolen. Last night Zeigler happened to drop back at the store and found them with $2 worth of groceries in their possession, police said.

Weigand pleaded guilty to a charge of petty larceny and was fined $100 and costs.

Bingham and Smith each pleaded not guilty to similar charges and were held to the grand jury under $500 bonds each.

Farmers Are Paid

Payments to Columbiana county farmers by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration's in 1938 totaled $92,329 and to Mahoning county farmers, $84,230. The AAA reported today.

The administration's 1938 farm program cost $449,532,875.44, it was announced. Ohio farmers got $9,319,359.

Is Under Way Here

The official week's campaign for membership of the Northern Columbiana County Concert association opened here today, following a week of membership renewal by mail, showing considerable interest in the campaign.

The concert association conducts the membership drive in the spring to permit early return of funds with which to select artists for the fall series of concerts. Since all artists make out their contracts early in the season, a campaign conducted successfully now means a wider selection of artists, officials pointed out.

A series of three concerts will be offered Salem music lovers and those of the neighboring towns, including Lisbon and Leetonia, through the sale of memberships in the association.

The campaign may close before the stated date, April 27, if the quota of 800 is reached before that time. Tickets for single concerts or the entire series will not be offered at the door or at any time after the close of the campaign.

Concert association committee chairmen will be at campaign headquarters throughout the week to handle the returns, which may be made by mail, through the drive workers or taken directly to headquarters, at 192 E. State st.

BUDGET SAVING
WILL BE SMALLCongress Not Expected to Go Much Under President's Estimate

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Influential lawmakers predicted today that congress would appropriate about $7,870,000,000 at this session, resulting in little, if any, savings under President Roosevelt's budget estimates.

Although the President told the reporters last week that it seemed likely congress might cut about $200,000,000 off the 1941 expenditures which he proposed last January, some senators said this now appeared impossible.

As an illustration, they pointed to the likelihood that the army and navy would ask supplemental funds of $100,000,000 or more for defense needs which were not considered in the original budget. An expenditure of this nature virtually would wipe out the tentative reductions of $118,051,334 which have been made in appropriations bills considered so far.

Staying Within Budget

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the senate finance committee commented:

"If we get through with this session and stay within the President's original budget estimates, congress will have done a fine job."

Harrison and others, however, were understood to have been cheered by recent reports that revenues were running far ahead of expectations.

The President's budget estimates were so drawn that, if congress stayed within them and raised $60,000,000 in view taxes, the treasury could remain within the $45,000,000,000 statutory debt limit in the fiscal year ending July 1, 1941.

Developments since then, however, have indicated that there will be no tax bill in this pre-election session. Congressional leaders pointed out that if a $50,000,000 cut were made in the President's budget, a $350,000,000 increase in revenues would clear the slate without additional imposts.

Still to be considered are the $975,000,000 relief bill and last-minute appropriations which may be put into a final deficiency bill.

ASK PROTECTION

Committees To Confer On Problem

Better fire protection for Goshen township will be considered when a committee from Goshen grange confers with a similar committee from Garfield grange in the near future.

J. S. Hollinger, master of Goshen grange, Friday night named T. R. Carr, Ernest Kamper and Otis A. Rhodes as his committee. It has been proposed that Goshen township trustees meet with the grangers regarding the possibility of the township buying fire equipment.

Goshen grange at its meeting also decided to hold a fair at its hall next fall, the date to be announced after the project is referred to a committee's hands. A successful fair was held last fall.

Goshen grange degree team will confer the third and fourth degrees of a class at Goshen grange's May 3 meeting. The Mahoning county treasure chest will visit Goshen grange May 17, with Dublin grange furnishing the program.

Tomorrow night a coverdish supper will be held in the grange hall for members of the All Girls band. Parents of the girls and others interested are invited. The band, composed of girls from Goshen and Greenford granges, is a joint project of the granges. Membership is open to any interested person.

A box social will be held next Saturday night by Smith grange.

The program Friday night, in charge of the lecturer, Miss Laura Hopkins, was devoted to trees. Miss Janet Sangree told of "Johnny Appleseed"; Mrs. Blanche Dushman told of the oldest thing in Ohio, the Logan Elm; Alfred H. Stratton read a paper on "History as Tree Rings Tell It"; and Miss Hopkins told of the agricultural products used in making automobiles and conducted two quiz contests.

The juveniles enjoyed a program of riddles and jokes, in charge of the lecturer, Miss Naomi Capel.

After the meeting, the subordinate and juvenile granges joined in a birthday social, honoring those birthdays occurring in January, February, March and April.

Auditor Receives
County Auto Fund

LISBON, April 22.—Auditor Ross Tisher has received a warrant for $106,336 from the state department of motor vehicles.

The share of the automobile license revenue, and checks for the cities and villages share were placed in the mail Saturday.

Of this fund, 47 percent goes to the county road and bridge fund, $11,825 to the county road maintenance fund and the remainder to cities and villages according to the number of auto license fees sold.

The latter distribution was as follows: East Liverpool, $9,875; Salem, $5,250; East Palestine, $2,200; Wellsburg, $1,950; Columbiana, $1,700; Lisbon, $1,500; Salineville, $775; Leetonia, $750; New Waterford, $300; Washingtonville, $175; Rogers, $150, and Hanover, $125.

Head Musicians

WHEELING, W. Va., April 22.—L. O. Teagle of Akron and Charles W. Weeks of Canton will continue in office as president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, of the Tri-State Musicians' association. They were re-elected at the association's weekend convention.

Lisbon High Band
Rated Excellent
In State Contest

LISBON, April 22.—Lisbon High school's 76-piece band, competing with 16 other bands in the state Class B contest at Columbus Saturday, won an excellent rating, including a superior award in sight reading. However, the band will not be eligible to participate in the national band contest to be held next month in Battle Creek, Mich., an honor which was won by Delaware and Cold Water High schools.

Jefferson High school also received a superior rating, while Lisbon High shared second division honors with Girard and Dayton Fairmount. Nine other bands including Toronto, Uhrichsville, Greenville, Bellevue, Xenia, Gallon, Gallia Academy, Logan and Kent, were awarded a very good rating in the third division, while Kenton placed in the fourth division.

In Class A competition, Ashtabula Harbor and Fremont received a superior rating, while East Liverpool and Steubenville placed in the second division with excellent rating.

The Lisbon High musicians returned home early Sunday afternoon and had the honor of accompanying Frank Simon's band in two selections during the concert presented in the Lisbon High school auditorium at 3 p. m. A crowd of over 500 enjoyed the concert.

Clean-up week in Salem will open Monday morning, May 6, Mayor Norman Phillips announced today.

The mayor appealed for the cooperation of the public in the clean-up campaign in order that the plans to clean and beautify the city might prove successful.

The city's service department trucks, manned by crews of workers, will canvass the city commencing May 6 to gather junk and rubbish placed in containers at the curbs. Garbage and ashes will not be hauled away.

Working street by street, the trucks will take the refuse to the city dump, situated near the sewage treatment plant. An exact route for the cleanup trucks will be announced later by Service Director Charles Kennedy.

The towns of Namsos and Andalsnes, where allied forces have landed in Norway, are aflame, Germany reported today as both sides, sparked by intense rivalry for air supremacy over Norway, stepped up the pace of their aerial warfare.

The Germans have sent warplanes over Norway in droves to drop high explosives on British warships, transports and landing points. DNB, official German news agency, which announced the burning of Namsos and Andalsnes, said German air bombs had struck the British heavy bombers.

British Repeat Raids

The focus of Britain's air might has been on keeping Nazi bombers and aerial transports aground. The British repeated their periodic night raids on the airfield at Stavanger, Norway, and also bombed German-held bases at Kristiansand, on the Norwegian Skagerrak coast, and at Aalborg, Denmark.

Whether by accident or by design, reverberations of the struggle in the skies echoed on neutral soil. Sweden, on the fringe of the Scandinavian battleground, was particularly anxious.

Changing, especially numerous and grave" incursions over Swedish territory by Nazi warplanes, the Stockholm government protested strongly to Berlin today and asked measures against repetition. Extraordinary air defenses were taken and one Swedish newspaper accused the Germans of reconnoitering Sweden's defenses.

Swedes Down Nazi Plane
One German plane was shot down on Swedish soil and warning shots were fired at others. The crews of two planes which made forced landings in Gotland, Swedish island in the Baltic, burned their craft.

Word reached Washington today that Capt. Robert M. Losey, assistant United States military attache at Stockholm, had lost his life in a German bombing raid at Dombas, Norway, yesterday.

He was the first American killed on land in the European war.

Apparently as a precaution for other Americans, meanwhile, the United States legation at Budapest advised American citizens in Hungary "to decide as to the advisability of leaving for the United States while there still are means of egress available."

It said, however, it had "no information which would lead it to believe that the war will be extended to southern Europe."

A German warplane shot down in a duel with three French fighters crashed at Narmont, in the Belgian province of Luxembourg. Its pilot was found dead in the wreckage. Its two other occupants, one of them wounded, were interned. Belgium announced she was protesting to London and Berlin against alleged trespassing by airmen.

Both sides claimed at least 11 enemy planes had been shot down over the weekend.

The state's detour sends traffic on Route 9 from Salem to New Garden; thence on Route 172 past Guilford lake and the infirmity to Route 30, into Lisbon. There are shorter routes, the engineer explained, as, for

ANOTHER TAILSPIN

Perhaps the Roosevelt administration keeps getting into jams with the aviation industry for the same reason jugs get into mousetraps. Perhaps it doesn't see the danger in time.

In any event, a lot of congressmen, the Air Line Pilots association, and a lot of Americans who take more than passing interest in aviation are up in arms. The slip stream of their wrath is the guesstimate to come out of aviation since the administration told the army to fly the mail.

As everybody knows the commercial aviation industry has just completed 12 months of operation without a fatality. As relatively few persons know, the industry ascribes this record largely to the air safety board and the air authority, which took over civil air regulation and accident investigation from the department of commerce under the civil aeronautics act of 1938.

Yet, in President Roosevelt's fourth reorganization plan it is blandly proposed that return of civil aeronautics be returned to the department of commerce. The department does not have the confidence of the persons most concerned, apparently. They are in favor of the new setup, and the record sustains their judgment. As they see it, it is only plain common sense to want to preserve what has worked—to avoid what didn't work. To the extent that they succeed in getting their case before the country they'll find agreement on that score.

HOLLAND ANTICIPATES A CRISIS

The plan spoken but dignified declaration of neutrality by Premier Jonkheer D. G. Greer of the Netherlands government apparently is in anticipation of an imminent crisis.

The premier affirms his government's position clearly. It is neutral in fact as well as name and will reject "protection" by both sides. A glance at the map shows why.

Holland is the buffer state between Germany and Great Britain, but was not created for that purpose, unlike some buffer states. It is in the power politics squeeze due to Germany's concentration on England; in the World War Belgium was in the same position because Germany's primary objective then was France. In this war, Belgium is relatively safe for the time being, because Germany's apparent strategy is to immobilize France while getting at Britain. For this same reason, the British may be assumed to have potentially as great an incentive to violate Holland's neutrality as Germany. But it is Germany which Holland plainly expects to make the first move.

Whatever happens, the record is straight. The Netherlands genuinely wants to remain neutral. The aggressor who violates its neutrality will lack even the thin excuses used by Germany in occupying Denmark and Norway, which failed to anticipate a crisis in time to get their positions straightened out for the record.

NAZI MOON

Buck up, boys, says Rudolph Hess to the little German lads, some of you may get into this war—and all of you will have a chance to roam, explore and fight in the colonies were going to win.

Because Herr Hess is a live prospect for power, being No. 3 in the Nazi hierarchy, this mention of colonies must be taken semi-seriously. It's the first time the subject has been brought up recently.

There are some very nice colonies available right now for governments with time and money to accept the obligation. The United States has grown tired of the Philippines. Italy isn't exactly delirious with joy over Ethiopia. Madagascar, at last reports, was something France could take or leave.

These are just samples, the idea being to suggest that colonies aren't always what they're cracked up to be. When Germany had colonies, moreover, it did next to nothing with them except admire them on the map. But if that's what the Nazis think they want—if colonies would make them quite reaching for the moon—the nations have enough slightly used ones to make up a whole colonial empire. It would be a good exchange.

SHOWDOWNS

In most General Motors plants, outcome of the labor board election probably was about as uncertain as a Joe Louis fight. It wasn't the outcome that really mattered.

The election originally was requested by the corporation, under a labor board rule of last summer permitting the employer to petition for a showdown. Though the employer's petition was denied on a technicality, the election was arranged for and run off by mutual consent of employer and organized employees.

It may be guessed the corporation did not do this because it wanted to strengthen one faction of its organized workers at the expense of the opposing faction. It may be guessed that the showdown was made imperative by the impossibility of conducting labor relations with mutually hostile factions.

The only possible net gain from the triumph of the CIO wing of United Automobile Workers would be labor peace in General Motors plant—and it remains to be seen whether peace is to be the fruit of triumph.

Relief bills make taxpayers wonder if the New Deal is an administration or an almsadministration.

Taking the war into Norway and Denmark didn't make it any easier to spell and pronounce.

International law is what the guy toting the biggest gun at the moment says it is, if that.

THIRTY YEARS AGO
(Issue of April 22, 1910)

Crowds of Salem people thronged D. E. Mathers' furniture store from 7 to 10 Wednesday evening to inspect the improvements to the store room. Carnations for souvenirs were presented to the visitors as they entered the store and when once inside they were served with Barrington Hall coffee and wafers by L. Tomlinson. Wood's harp orchestra of Alliance furnished music for the opening.

Governor Harmon this afternoon vetoed the Anderson Sunday baseball local option bill.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Watson Holloway and Edwin Samuel Crowl was solemnized at 7 p. m. Wednesday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Holloway of N. Union st., by Rev. William L. Swan of the Presbyterian church. The bride was dressed in white and carried a bouquet of carnations. After the ceremony, which was attended by members of the immediate families, a dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Crowl will live at 25 N. Union st.

Albert Hayes of Garfield ave. spent Thursday in Lisbon with the blind relief commission, of which he is a member.

Ambler Smith left Wednesday evening for Cleveland to attend the opening of the ball season in the new ball park there Thursday. He was accompanied by his son Harold, who will spend the remainder of the week with his brother, Wilbur, a student at Western Reserve university.

Mrs. A. H. Schropp and baby went to Pittsburgh Thursday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Eitemiller, for a few days.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
(Issue of April 22, 1920)

Mayor John W. Post today appointed C. W. Zimmerman as director of public safety. Mr. Zimmerman will continue in the automobile and garage business on McKinley ave. He will assume charge of the safety department immediately following the Salvation Army drive, since he is the chairman of the local drive organization.

Miss Esther Tomlinson has accepted a position in the First National bank and will assume her duties next Monday.

Mrs. Clara Burson of Broadway entertained the girls of the First National bank, Wednesday evening in honor of the approaching marriage of her niece, Miss Esther Burson, to Homer Randels of Hanoverton.

Mrs. Isaac Bonsall was hostess Wednesday afternoon to the members of the Ellsworth Avenue club at her home on Ellsworth road. The afternoon was spent in an informal social time. In two weeks Mrs. Albert Bonsall will entertain the members.

Edward Orr and his sister Gladys went to Cleveland this morning to spend a few days with friends. Miss Edna Williams has returned to her home in Alliance after visiting for several days at the home of E. S. Williams on Lundy st.

Heavy rains for the past several weeks have caused considerable damage to some of the new houses being erected on E. Eighth st. The rain washed in on 3 lots where the cellars had been excavated causing the foundations to bulge.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, April 23

AFFAIRS may move at a very lively tempo on this day, according to the influencing lunar aspects. Disruption, disturbance and sudden denouements may be looked for in this campaign, which may be progressive and productive if carefully managed. However, immature ideas and plans may lead in wrong directions. A complete revision of methods and objectives may be desirable. Affiliation with large corporations, political, diplomatic or fraternal bodies, and using finesse rather than abruptness, are advised. Sign papers carefully.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for the unexpected this year, in which there may be a sudden reversal of plans, with upsets, disturbances and quite unpredictable developments. With well-considered measures in promoting advanced or progressive projects, and with the assistance from corporations, political or fraternal organizations, there may be surprising denouements. Be cautious with all writings and contracts.

A child born on this day may be progressive, original and constructive in new lines or novel ideas, attaining its ends by tact, strategem and subtlety rather than radical measures, although having revolutionary trends.

Dizzy Dean says he is going to sit in the stands and enjoy himself. Maybe so, but a sore jaw is almost as distressing as a sore arm.

At least the puzzle expert who gets up federal income tax instructions refrains from writing them in code.

A mystery ship is reported on the Atlantic coast. We don't suppose it could possibly be the ship so many folks have been waiting to come in.

“Woldman Test” Will Show
Up Raw Spots In Stomach

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Is there any test to show whether there is an opening or raw spot in the stomach or intestines any place?

Yes, there is a test known as the “Woldman Test.” It depends upon the use of phenolphthalein, a drug which is absorbed and can easily be detected in the urine because it gives a color reaction with acids and alkalis.

The principle of the test depends upon the fact that phenolphthalein will not be absorbed through the intact mucous membrane of the digestive canal, but it will be readily absorbed through a denuded area where blood vessels are close to the surface. An amount of phenolphthalein

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

lein is given which would pass through the intact stomach and intestinal canal without absorption, but which would show in the urine if a denuded area exists.

Mineral Oil

The aspiration of mineral oil as a cause of pneumonia.

A few weeks ago I stated in this column that mineral oil used as a laxative did not cause cancer or do serious harm of any kind in the body. A New Haven physician called my attention to the fact that mineral oil used in the nose has been reported as responsible for several cases of pneumonia. This so-called “lipoid pneumonia” results from the aspiration of droplets of oil in the lungs.

One case also occurred of a man who had a paralysis of the glottis. He used mineral oil as a laxative by mouth, but on account of his disability inspired some of the oil. These cases are quite rare but have occurred often enough to allow warning against the use of a mineral oil regularly in the nose.

The statement still stands that mineral oil used as a laxative has not caused cancer.

Parsley Juice

Value of parsley juice. Several weeks ago I stated in answer to a question that I knew of no special value of parsley juice and invited the opinions of my readers on the subject. I have had a number of replies. Several of them mention the use of parsley in urinary troubles and in retention of the bladder; also its use as a kidney stimulant and in cases where there has been suppression of urine.

One reader calls my attention to the fact that it is a source of vitamin A, B, C, and contains iron, copper and manganese.

“Considering the fact,” writes my correspondent, “that one eats an infinitesimal portion of parsley, one scarcely derives any benefit from it, but I believe that by drinking the juice one may obtain the valuable mineral and vitamin content. I grind the parsley and extract the juice which I serve as a cocktail. If served between meals, I mix it with grapefruit juice. If served at dinner, I mix it with tomato juice.”

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: “Three Weeks' Reducing Diet,” “Indigestion and Constipation,” “Reducing and Gaining,” “Infant Feeding,” “Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes,” “Feminine Hygiene” and “The Care of the Hair and Skin.”

The CAIRO GARTER MURDERS

By VAN DYCK MASON

SYNOPSIS

Assisting Major Bruce Kilgour of the British Intelligence Service on a special assignment, Captain Hugh North, of G-2, U. S. Army Intelligence, boards the S. S. Fort Lucknow at sea, in the dead of night. Kilgour keeps him in ignorance regarding their mission except to inform that Sir George Ruthven, in Cairo, will enlighten the Captain. North is instructed to act as though he and Kilgour are strangers. Next day, at the bar, M. Levasseur, a Frenchman, is extremely sardonic to learn why the ship stopped during the night. Evasively North answers, "I hadn't heard it." Dr. Larkin Ladd, noted Egyptologist and head of Lawrence College in Cairo, joins them. Then Richard Follonsbee introduces himself. The latter claims he sells sewing machines and reapers for Heineman and Schlager. North is instantly interested for that concern manufactures arms. Levasseur, too, lost his disinterested. Follonsbee, coming with an attack of belated emotion, is relieved when Lolita Ladd appears, and changes the subject. North is surprised to see Colonel Stag Melhorne, soldier of fortune, aboard. The party adjourns for dinner where they are all seated at the Captain's table. There North meets the stunning Natika Black, English by name but French or Greek in appearance, and Monsieur Phillips, retired president of the Hilo-Holme Chemical Works which, he says, manufactures "aniline dye." North recalls however, that poison gas is the company's major product. Natika suspects that it was North who boarded the liner during the night. Ladd's wife, Zara, and an Egyptian named Ben Yamen Hasid did not come to dinner. Later, Follonsbee asks North to stop at his cabin. The young man is obviously disturbed about something. First, however, North is summoned to Captain Diston's lightless quarters where Kilgour awaits him.

CHAPTER VI.

As he crossed the threshold he "tawled." "Why these hide-in-the-dark tactics? Ghost stories, or is second childhood creeping up on you?"

More earnestly than politely Kilgour invited his guest to visit a spot where ice water was extremely scarce and invited him to take a seat asking, "Do you think anybody knows for certain we came aboard last night?"

North hesitated, then shook his narrow, dark head. "No, but a ravishing young dame called Natika Black seemed disturbingly suspicious. Why?"

"When I was swarming up that ladder I saw someone looking out of a porthole alongside. They were close enough to have recognized us if there was enough light."

"Um, I fear that's a real good job," Hugh North drawled, but for the first time he began to consider the situation as something more than an unexpected lark. "You don't really think there's anything to worry about on this boat?"

"Don't see how there could be," Kilgour muttered slowly. "But I'd keep a weather eye out if I were you. What do you make of your table mates?"

"I confess I'm a bit curious as to why I've been thrown with so unusual a crowd. There's nothing commonplace about them. It wasn't accidental, I take it?"

It was Kilgour dourly assured him, no accident.

North whistled to himself, sat up. "Just what do you mean, Bruce?"

"Not that these people are suspects, or anything of the sort, but our M. I. (Military Intelligence) thought it wise for you to make some contact that may prove valuable in Cairo."

Kilgour's pipe glowed in the restless dark momentarily illumining his bony yet always attractive features. "I presume you have read about a series of brutal murders around Cairo. It's as weird a series of crimes as you've ever heard of."

"Weird?" In the darkness Hugh North smiled but, listening with all his attention, let his body yield to the great vessel's hitch and rolling. "I see. Dracula's loose again?"

"Don't joke," snapped Room 38's ace agent. "Every one of the victims was found wearing a woman's red-and-black garter fastened about the left arm."

Incredulous laughter escaped North. "Come off it! Even for Cairo that's too fantastic."

"Sounds like it," the other admitted. "But it's true, every word I've told you. Worst of it is the killings have been so carefully done, the usual methods of the Anglo-Egyptian police have gotten them nowhere. To say they're desperate is putting it mildly—they'd have to be before they'd ask Scotland Yard to help them catch Mr. Armstrong."

"Mr. Armstrong?"

Across the cabin Kilgour struck and held a fresh match to his pipe. "They conclude that all these murders were done by one super-clever crook. What do you think?"

"The garters indicate it—else why should anyone bother with trademarking a series of victims? Armstrong, I take it, is a pseudonym bestowed by your friends in Cairo?"

"Yes, and that's all they have done to him to date."

"Hold on, Bruce, you're Military Intelligence and so am I. This business sounds like a straight police job."

Kilgour sucked hard on his pipe, sent a tiny ghost of white smoke whirling across Captain Diston's very comfortable cabin. "These murders tie up with a sudden spurt in the gentle art of gunrunning. Certain trouble-making Arab tribes have recently been, and still are being, supplied with modern weapons. Our garrisons all through lower Asia Minor have been having the very devil of a time. See where we fit?"

North nodded. Gunrunning, eh? His mind looped back and pounced upon the names "Heineman and Schlager." Like the propellers of a ship getting under way, his imagination commenced to turn over.

"All I know is that there's a terrible, dangerous mess brewing. I'm bringing you down to Cairo, Hugh, for the very good reason that while this Armstrong person might be watching every Englishman who might be a detective, you're one of the last persons the man we're trying to catch would suspect. He'd not very likely bother about an American who could have no official standing. Now do you see why it's so important that we shouldn't be seen together?"

"It begins to percolate. Smuggled arms, eh? Well, it's a bad business, but I still don't see why detectives are sent to ferry us around the Mediterranean."

"Neither do I," the British agent admitted. "I expect I'll be told in Cairo. The chief's given me carte blanche as to assistants—co-laborators, rather," he hastily corrected. "At the same time he warned me we'd be in continual deadly peril; this Armstrong's a cunning, merciless devil. Believe me, Hugh, when Sir Giles talks like that, it's no moonshine."

For some moments neither man spoke and the Fort Lucknow plowed sturdily down the Mediterranean, her fabric playing an obligato of creaks and squeaks.

At last Kilgour leaned forward and said, "What do you make of Follonsbee?"

North deliberated some moments. "He's either very stupid or supremely clever. In the bar this evening he bragged about being Heineman and Schlager's man, then all at once shut up and tried to wriggle out of it."

"Sounds as if he was trying to establish contacts aboard, doesn't it?"

"A bit. Here's what is particularly interesting, Bruce." North got up and took a brief turn down the cabin. "The hombre made a point of asking me to come to his cabin. I'm wondering why?"

"Maybe he thinks you're a promising customer."

"Somehow I think I won't discourage him," came the meditative reply. "Might prove useful."

"Best take care, I don't trust bright young men who strike up acquaintances in smoking rooms."

"So you heard about that?" North could not suppress a chuckle. "Bar-tender, I suppose."

"Exactly. Donovan can hear more without seeming to than anyone I've come across in a long time. By the bye, I'm sending a marconigram to the Yard about Follonsbee. If he's a British subject it will make things a bit easier."

"When will you get an answer?"

"Some time before midnight, I expect."

Miss Rita McNicol Bride At Church Wedding Here

Solemn high nuptial mass marked the beautiful wedding at 9 a. m. Saturday in St. Paul's Catholic church when Miss Rita McNicol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McNicol of Woodland ave., became the bride of Vance Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart of the Lisbon rd.

Rev. Fr. J. A. Mahan, Rev. Fr. Herbert Cook of the parish here, and Rev. Fr. William J. O'Neil of Cleveland officiated with Francis McNicol, a brother of the bride, as master of ceremonies; Terence Steffel as assistant; Robert Scullion as censer bearer; and George Vavrek and Anthony Merino as acolytes.

Church Decorated
The church was decorated with white snapdragons in gold vases and seven branch candelabra with white cathedral candles.

Miss Sarah Colman was organist, with vocal music offered by Misses Margaret Entrikin, Mary Elizabeth O'Neil, Ann Sweeney, Maxine Bradley and Winifred Strader. Miss Colman and Miss Entrikin, who sang Schubert's "Ave Maria," were soloists.

The bride wore a lovely gown of white faille taffeta, hoop-skirt style, with tight bodice and long pointed sleeves. The small turn-down collar was edged with a lace ruffling. Crystal buttons trimmed the dress.

Mullins Boosters Planning Dance

At a recent dinner meeting of the Mullins Booster club at Overlook Inn on the Canfield rd., members completed arrangements for the club's annual "spring dance" at the Elks home May 11.

Members of the club and their guests will attend the affair, which will feature music by Don Harvey and his orchestra.

The table for the dinner featured decorations appropriate for April and May, with a miniature maypole as centerpiece. Pink and green streamers of the Maypole ran to tiny figures, holding umbrellas, at the places.

Bingo was enjoyed after the meeting, prizes going to Miss Evelyn Crawford and Miss Ann McLaughlin. The committee in charge included Misses Evelyn Benedict, Matilda Fleischer and Kathryn Rich.

Miss Ruth Provins Is Hostess

Miss Ruth Provins was hostess Saturday evening at a party for a group of college friends at her home on E. Ninth st.

Guests included Orville Applegate of Alliance, who will return to Penn college in Cleveland; Ralph McGuire of Pittsburgh; and Lowell Shellenberg of Salem, returning to the University of Cincinnati. Games of "500" and contests were enjoyed, followed by a lunch served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. George Steffel.

Mrs. Whiteleather Is Honored

Mrs. W. B. Whiteleather celebrated her birthday anniversary Sunday at her home on S. Union ave.

Guests entertained at her home during the day included her three sisters, Mrs. D. S. Stackhouse, Salem; Mrs. James Baughman of near Salem; and Mrs. John Peterson of Minerva; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reeder of Kensington; James Baughman and John Peterson of Kensington; Mrs. R. V. Greenfield, a daughter of Mrs. Whiteleather.

D. D. Baird Honored On Birthday

In honor of his 70th birthday, D. D. Baird of the Patmos road was given a surprise party at his home Saturday night by his sons and daughters.

An enjoyable evening was spent in cards and singing favorite old songs. Mr. Baird received many gifts.

A large birthday cake, lighted with candles, was an attraction of the buffet lunch which was served.

Members of S. E. M. Club Convene

S. E. M. club associates enjoyed "cootie" games at their meeting Friday night at the home of Miss Juanita Whinnery on the Winona rd. Prizes were won by Miss Rhoda Ward, Miss Evelyn Windle and Mrs. Robert Davis. Lunch was served.

The group will be entertained May 4 at the home of Miss Lurline Carns on E. Fifth st.

Birthday Party for Gordon Hise

Mrs. Harold Hise entertained at a family birthday dinner Sunday at her home on S. Union ave., honoring her son, Gordon, who was 18. The table was centered with a large birthday cake.

Out-of-town visitors included Mrs. Della Hise, Charles Hise, Mrs. Mary Justice and Miss Doris Munsing, all of Canton.

Marriage Licenses

Marriage licenses have been issued at Lisbon to:

Perry Walker, pressman, of Canton, and Lily Walker of Bayard.

John A. O'Malley, potter, and Margaret E. McAvoy, potter, of East Liverpool.

George M. Miller, millworker, of Warren, and Irene V. Gochenour of East Liverpool.

Earl Steran, laborer, and Betty Corrie of East Liverpool.

Her fingertip veil was arranged in a halo of white lace ruffles. A sprig of white spring flowers were tied in the bow at the hem of the skirt where it was caught to the hoop.

She carried a bridal prayerbook showered with orchids and lilies of the valley tied in white ribbons and cut crystal rosary beads, a gift of the groom.

Maid Wears Taffeta
The maid of honor was gowned in light blue taffeta and net, wearing matching accessories and turban of the material shirred to form a tiara over the forehead. Her gown was trimmed in pink and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and daisies.

Miss McNicol, the bride's sister, wore hyacinth blue faille taffeta, fashioned with bustle skirt and sleeves and short train. She wore a white turban and white accessories and her colonial bouquet was of Johanna Hill roses and shasta daisies. Both attendants wore the gift of the bride, strings of pearls.

The groom presented his attendants gold initialed key chains.

Mrs. McNicol, mother of the bride, was dressed in a frock of rose mist silk crepe and wore a corsage of Talsmanian roses and daisies.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Stewart, wore a blue and white printed chiffon gown and corsage of gardenias.

Breakfast For 40
Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast for 40 guests was served at the Knotty Pine room. A reception was given at the bride's home from 3 to 5, where 150 guests were entertained.

Presiding at the tea table were Miss Mary Elizabeth O'Neil, assisted by Miss Rose Marie Scullion, Miss Entrikin, Mrs. Claude Philpotts, and Mrs. Dana Floding.

The table was appointed in crystal and white with white tapers in crystal holders and a centerpiece of white snapdragons. Calla lilies and carnations.

The couple left for a wedding trip the bride attired in a frock of dusty rose crepe with lace trim, black refer coat with black accessories and dusty rose felt hat. Her corsage was of orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart will make their home on South Broadway.

The bride, a graduate in the class of 1936, Salem High school, is employed in the Ohio Bell Telephone company. Her husband, who was graduated from High school here in the same year, is employed by the Mullins Manufacturing Corp.

Mrs. Stewart has been honored at a series of bridal parties, including a joint shower for the bride and Mrs. Lloyd Whitney of Columbus, formerly employed at the telephone exchange, given Thursday evening at the home of Miss O'Neil on E. State st.

Guests enjoyed a buffet supper. Table decorations featured spring flowers and tapers in gold candelabra.

Rehearsal Dinner Attend Wedding In Cleveland

The rehearsal dinner was given Friday evening at the McNicol home on Woodland ave. for 36 guests. Crystal appointments and white tapers and a centerpiece of white snapdragons and Calla lilies decorated the table.

Guests included Mrs. J. H. Gape and daughter, East Liverpool, who were here for the wedding parties; Bryan McNamara of Leetonia, uncle of the bride; Kenneth Weikart of Leetonia; Mr. and Mrs. Frank O'Hanlon of East Liverpool; Rev. Fr. William J. O'Neil of Cleveland; and others from Cleveland, Youngstown, East Liverpool and Springfield.

Seventh Birthday Is Observed

Miss Mary Anne Hassler entertained a group of children at her home on N. Lundy ave., Saturday afternoon, celebrating her seventh birthday anniversary.

Games and contests were enjoyed, prizes going to Stella Jones and Marilyn Burns. A delightful lunch was served at a table decorated in pink and white.

Miss Molly Lou Schuller of McKeesport, Pa., was a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Ledebur and son Gail of Warren, Pa., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Kelly, Mound st.

Fred Kopp of E. Ninth st. is spending the week at Spring Lake, Mich., on a fishing trip.

Mrs. William Turner of Ohio ave., has returned home from Tampa, Fla., where she has spent several weeks.

AN IDEA!

We had one once before—remember? Well, we don't either, but this one is important, it's about WALL PAPER. We have taken odd lots from a 50,000 roll stock and put a "bundle lot" price on each. "Sing a song of sixpence" as you come with your measures and your orders. No chance buying, everything sampled. To the earliest comers fall the complete choice.

'Good Service' Seen Best Safety Motto, Asserts E. L. Grate

In the millions of words written on motoring safety the part played by the servicemen has never been fully emphasized, according to E. L. Grate, manager of the E. L. Grate Motor Company, Ford Dealer.

"The quality and character of the service performed on an automobile have much to do with its safety and performance in the hands of its owner", Grate declares.

"There is nothing more expensive and dangerous to the motorist than incompetent service. Good service is not necessarily expensive; in fact, what one pays for service is less important than where one has it done."

"Because we feel the truth of this, we have installed every modern tool and device to enable us to offer Ford owners the best service obtainable, and we are proud of the facilities in our shop."

Lovely Cape Cod Adaptation

This home had its inspiration in those picturesque New England homes so noteworthy for their quaint beauty and livability. By studying the floor plan you can see that every element of good design has been incorporated for convenience and comfort in living. The rooms are generously proportioned. This, too, is a house that can grow, for the attic space can be made into additional bedrooms to accommodate a growing family.

The Damascus Lumber company is featuring the building of small, modern homes, and offers the above "Cape Cod" as an example of what can be built on a basis of ordinary rent expenditure.

All that's needed to build your home is steady employment and 10 per cent as a down payment. Usually the lot will cover the down payment. The monthly payments often figure less than is paid for rent. Get full particulars at the Damascus Lumber Co.

Rolling Records

PHILADELPHIA—Curious about the frequency with which Frank McGovern removed a hub cap from his car, detectives decided to investigate.

They unscrewed the cap — and promptly arrested the man on gambling charges. Within the cap, they said, they found records of 461 numbers game plays and eight horse race bet slips.

MUSIC RENTAL
PLAN STRESSED

Convenient Payment
Method Makes Education Easy

Every child needs a musical training—in fact, that is his birthright. Music is a year-round activity that continues regardless of time, weather or economic conditions. It is a powerful aid in developing character, morale, discipline and poise.

More than 40,000 schools in the United States have bands. Make it possible for your child to join the school band by supplying him with an instrument, thus adding to his happiness. It is amazing how rapidly he will progress by the modern simplified method of teaching.

If you do not wish to make an outright investment, or if you desire to see what progress your child will make first, the Finley Music Co., 132 S. Broadway, announces a new and proven plan, known as the "Champion talent test rental plan—the gateway to musical success".

Every Champion Instrument offered on their rental plan is built to the high standard of American craftsmanship and is guaranteed against defects in material and workmanship.

Credited in Full

The rental fee will be credited in full on outright purchase of instrument selected in the event the boy or girl wishes to continue after the "talent test period".

The Finley School of Music, established in 1924, has gained a wide reputation for its successful students. Never before have parents had such a real opportunity offered them. This gives children every possible advantage for a real musical talent test by using the "Champion talent test rental plan."

Be sure to look at the Finley Music Co., display window of band instruments. This display of unique instruments is unusual, consisting of oboe, bassoon, piccolo, flute, melophone, French horn, clarinet, saxophone, bass clarinet and trombone.

The Finley Music Co., will welcome the opportunity to talk over this Champion rental plan so call at their store tomorrow and make arrangements for your boy or girl to start on the road to a musical career.

Simplicity Marks Fluid Drive

A Chrysler fluid drive is very simple. Its stamped steel and welded construction assures great strength and accuracy. Above, the operator is spot-welding the fins in a runner sub-assembly. Before it is finished the fluid drive parts are welded into a single unit on an arc welder thus housing the mechanism in a solid steel casing that will not separate even under the most severe service conditions.

Famous Hollywood Playgirls
To Appear At Metzger Hotel

Miss Glenna Jane Thompson, with her famous Hollywood Playgirls, a snappy "girlish" band, will make their first local appearance here tonight when they play at that well known recreation spot, the Silver Cocktail room at the Metzger hotel.

Miss Thompson and her orchestra, composed entirely of girls, have toured practically all sections of the country. They have made appearances at the most popular places and their music has been very pleasing to dance followers.

Miss Thompson is a native of Texas and received her musical education in Houston.

During her first years in musical circles, Miss Thompson was a pianist of note. She also sang and danced with a men's band. In 1935 she was inspired to play the drums by none other than that famous drummer, Jules Mendelson, who was then featured in the famous Blue Steele band.

Miss Thompson today is a great drummer herself. She has personality and is a very charming lady.

With her will be Dez Thompson, on the drums; formerly drummer with Phil Spitalny for five years; Marie, as base; Jane Cullum, tenor sax.

Chrysler Reports
Big First Quarter

Production of Chrysler cars in the first quarter of 1940 was the largest in any first quarter since this company manufactured four-cylinder models in 1928, according to Charles L. Jacobson, vice president and general sales manager of the Chrysler sales division, Chrysler corporation.

Factory shipments to dealers in the United States were used in making this compilation. Retail deliveries by Chrysler dealers in this period also were very heavy, with the week of March 30 the largest of any March week in the last 10 years.

"The demand for our product is brisk throughout the country," says Jacobson, "and a very large percentage of our dealers sold twice as many cars in the first quarter as they did in the first three months of 1939. Some of them already have sold as many of the 1940 line as they did in the entire model year of 1939."

SPRING, SUMMER
CLEANING LOOMS

Modern Equipment Takes Difficulty Out of Fine Work

L. C. Price, manager of the Paris Cleaners, has this message for all women of Salem and vicinity:

"Your spring and summer clothes, regardless of style, make or material, can be rejuvenated by having them dry cleaned by our superior methods. Not a single fibre will be injured, yet your clothes will be returned to you thoroughly clean. All imbedded dirt, as well as all types of stains, are removed by our special cleaning system."

Price says, "we are making a special drive for those light colored garments most cleaners consider so hard to handle. We know we can make them like new regardless of style. Of course you have to have special equipment to do it but here at the Paris plant we keep abreast of the times with all the latest, the cleaner equipment companies offer the trade."

"MOST COPIED"
CAR, IS CLAIM

Room Aplenty for Three
On Either Front or
Rear Seats

The 1940 Graham is on display at the Dunlap Motor Co. showrooms, 390 W. Pershing St.

As perfectly appointed as a beautiful home, styled for luxurious comfort, there's room aplenty for three man-sized passengers on front or rear seat, with space to stretch the legs in comfort.

Deep, restful springs, choice fabrics, tenite and chrome are judiciously blended in the instrument panel, steering wheel, and hardware fittings. Truly there's luxury in the new 1940 Graham.

Graham engineers claim to have placed the entire automobile industry since 1906. Notable Graham engineering "firsts," as claimed are battery ignition, silent chain timing drive, separate radiator core, shell and grille, full length water jackets, silent intermediate gear transmission, internal hydraulic brakes, safety glass standard, rubber cushioned spring shackles, aluminum pistons with invar struts, streamlined body and skirted fenders, supercharger in popular priced car and instantaneous cylinder wall lubrication.

With such advanced engineering, they claim the most copied car in the world. Everyone should see the new Graham now on display at the Dunlap Motor company showrooms before deciding on the purchase of their next car.

Detroit Proves Indians Pitching Ace Is Only Human

FELLER DRIVEN FROM MOUND IN 3RD BY TIGERS

Detroit Registers Win Over Indians; White Sox Top Browns

By BILL WHITE

American league batsmen can breathe easier today. Bobby Feller's only human after all.

Rated off his performance in white washing the White Sox with a no-hitter opening today, plus the knowledge that his blinding speed is matched by newly acquired baseball cunning, the outlook was anything but bright for the hapless hitters. But he lasted only three innings yesterday as the Detroit Tigers rapped him solidly for six hits and an ultimate 12-2 victory.

The 21-year-old phenom was greeted with a loud double from the bat of Barney McCosky, first Tiger to face him, and that was all the Tigers needed. They drove him from the mound with a five run assault.

Schoolboy Rowe went the distance for the Tigers and allowed but five hits.

Chisox Win

The White Sox, victims of the Feller fireball last Tuesday, finally recovered enough to stage a batting spree for a 6-2 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

While Red Lyons, their aceless veteran, was holding the Browns to seven hits, the Sox socked Slick Coffman around unmercifully, getting all their blows off him. After putting the game away safely in the sixth with a three run outburst, the Chicagoans were held hitless the rest of the way by Johnny Niggeling.

In the only other game getting past the weather, the St. Louis Cardinals greeted their former hurler, Dizzy Dean warmly—the perennial pop-off was blasted off the mound in the fifth as the Cards won a 5-4 thriller from the Cubs.

The Redbirds were helpless in the first three frames, the great one's "nothing ball" offering nothing more substantial than a shadow to swing at. But the fifth started with four successive singles, Charley Root taking over in time to see the winning runs come in.

ABC Firing Drill

DETROIT, April 22.—It's going to be tough on the keggers who try to wedge their way into leadership in the American Bowling Congress, now that only 15 days remain of the annual pin clinic.

Sunday's firing saw only one change in the high 10 standings, the 1926 posted for eighth place in the all-events by Mike Shirgish of Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Brietz To You

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, April 22.—Will C. Harridge, president of the American league, just missed being on the ill-fated Lake Shore limited, wrecked near Little Falls, N. Y., Saturday with an appalling loss of life.

He had reservations on the train, but took an earlier one to Old Jim Thorpe, always greatly admired by Knute Rockne, will have a bit in the forthcoming "Life of Knute Rockne." Jimmy Dykes turned down a $30,000 Philly offer to remain with the Pale Hose at considerably less.

Today's True Story

Josh Cody, new Temple line coach and one of the best, likes to tell this one on himself. . . . Back in 1917 they were about to give him his walking papers from an officers' training school at Fort Oglethorpe because of poor eyesight. . . . Next day Josh played in a camp baseball game and socked two homers. . . . P. S.: The poor eye sight charges were dismissed pronto.

Dick Metz, handiest of the golf pros, has taken over the Oak Park course near Chicago where Horton Smith formerly held forth.

The No. 1 guy in Detroit at the moment is Dick Bartell, who has caught on with the fans in a big league way. . . . Jim Rogers, polo-playing son of the late Will is bringing his all-California team east on June 2 for a game at the Pegasus Polo club at Rockleigh, N. J.

Good reading: Dick Anderson's swell piece on Honus Wagner in the Evansville (Ind.) Courier-Press.

Help, Help, Help!

To the members of this congregation: It is not against the rules to send in dope for this album of song.

It takes ammunition to keep any engine going. . . . Send us the news, gossip and original wise cracks. . . . (Four-line jingles also welcome). . . . Send them to Eddie Brietz, The Associated Press, 50 Rockefeller Plaza, New York.

Reason: Bill Terry isn't in the "baseball register" is that he didn't bother to answer four or five letters requesting information about himself—not because he demanded compensation for same. . . . Belated reports from Venezuela say Jack Dempsey bonered in calling the Sixto Escobar-Simon Chavez fight a draw after Sixto had Chavez all over the floor. Myron McCormick, who is making good in the Cincinnati outfield, failed at every infield position before shifting to the wide open spaces.

Today's Guest Star

Jack Broudy, Boston traveler: The defense is fine on the Maginot line.

Five Positions Change Hands In State Meet

TOLEDO, April 22.—Bowlers from Hamilton, Bryan and Toledo occupied the Ohio State Bowling association tournament alleys today with new top scores to shoot at in five divisions as result of weekend rolling.

Pat Aibris of Cleveland climbed into first place in the Class A alleys with these figures: 652, 614, 697-1,963. His team, the Linsz Recreation Juniors, lost its Class A team championship however. Its 2,877 total didn't rate the score board.

William Jones of Cleveland went into the lead in both Class B singles and all-events with 704 and 1,880.

Toledo's Frankenthuth Beers registered 3,085 to head the Class A five-man list. This event received two newcomers in second and third places too—City Chevrolet of Akron with 3,033 and Canton Pure Milk with 3,042. The Bartlett Lumber Co. of Canton dropped to fourth place with 3,021.

The Springfield H. Van Dette-H. Shuek duo is in third place in the Class B doubles with 1,223.

PENN RELAYS WILL ATTRACT FIELD OF 3,000

Carnival April 26-27 Will Be 46th for Track Games

PHILADELPHIA, April 22.—Three thousand of the finest track and field athletes east of the Mississippi river assemble here April 26 and 27 for the 46th annual running of the University of Pennsylvania Relay Carnival.

The two-day extravaganza, with its cheering thousands, is a far cry from that spring day in 1893 when Penn and Princeton met in the granddaddy of all relay races. Clad in short pants and sleeveless jerseys, the teams ran over a slippery track marked out on soggy turf.

A handful of undergraduates witnessed that first race, which Princeton won, and the idea caught on immediately. Two years later Penn officials had induced eight colleges to enter teams. Races all were over the mile route, with only two teams in each event.

"Strong Races" Run

The Daily Pennsylvanian, student publication, reported that "all teams ran strong races and some were very close."

The first relays attracted Harvard, Cornell, Columbia, Lafayette, Lehigh, C. C. N. Y., Rutgers, N. Y. U., and Swarthmore. Now there are more than 70 events during the two days of competition, attracting more than 3,000 athletes from 500 colleges, prep and high schools.

Every year recently has seen some new team emerge as the most outstanding of the meet. Pittsburgh's Golden Panthers walked off with most of the laurels last year, winning four relay events, the quarter-mile, distance-medley, sprint-medley and half-mile. Penn, the sponsor and once a power in intercollegiate track and field competition, meanwhile failed to win a major title.

Prior to the 1939 meet, great teams from the University of Indiana and from little North Texas Teachers' college had held the spotlight.

Florida to Send Entries

Early entrants for the carnival include Florida, with several relay teams and a number of special event competitors. Olympic Champion Ralph Metcalf, coach of Xavier college, New Orleans, will bring two sprint teams north.

New York City high schools, which were barred last year by a state ruling there, will compete this year as the ban has been raised by educational authorities.

Indicating the drawing appeal of the meet, entries also have been received from Ashland, O., Alfred, N. Y., Brooklyn college, C. C. N. Y., Colgate, Catholic U., Army, Navy, Virginia, Fordham, Michigan State, Manhattan, Maryland, Princeton, Penn State, Pitt, Rutgers, Syracuse, Cornell and a host of others.

1939 LEADERS AGAIN STRONG

Association's Top Teams Of Last Year Out To Repeat

Kansas City and Minneapolis, the one-two teams in last season's American Association title scramble, already have made it clear they don't intend to rest on their laurels.

Both teams uncovered sparkling hurlers new to the league, yesterday, each rookie winning his game in brilliant fashion.

Milt Haefer, 27-year-old pitcher who won 24 and lost nine for DeLand, Fla., last year, yielded only four hits in 11 innings. Harry Smythe took over at the point and pitched hitless ball for five more frames before Minneapolis could squeeze out a 3 to 0 triumph over Indianapolis in 16 innings.

Lloyd Johnson lasted 15 1-3rd innings before four hits produced the three runs to give the Millers the decision. What proved to be the winning run came on Ab Wright's double and Phil Weintraub's single.

Rookie Stars

Kansas City's newest rookie prize is Charles Wensloff, 23-year-old right-hander who won 26 and lost four for Joplin in the Western Association in 1939. Wensloff cut Columbus down with two hits yesterday, including a home run by Pitcher Frank Melton. The final score was 9 to 4.

Toledo also introduced a promising youngster in Les Wikkala, 24, who finished the season with the Mudhens last season after winning 15 and losing nine for Fremont in the Ohio State league. Wikkala scattered seven hits to Milwaukee as Toledo won, 3 to 2. He didn't issue a pass and the only extra base knock he yielded was Les Powers' home run.

St. Paul rode to a 6 to 1 victory over Louisville on the veteran Art Herring's six-hit pitching. George Stumpf led the attack with four hits.

15 Horses to Run In Derby Classic

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 22.—Approximately 15 of the 127 nominated thoroughbreds will compete for the Kentucky Derby glory and gold on May 4, in the opinion of local hard-boots.

Although admitting anything can happen to change the picture between now and post time, their idea of a starting field shaped up like this:

Bimelech, Andy K. Carrier Pigeon, Flight Command, Gino Thor, Midland, Red Deck, Royal Man, Bashful Duck, Black Brummel, Fenelon, Calladion, Insecked, Pictor and Roman.

Listed as possibilities: Albalon, Barnet, General Manager, Gramps, Inscassie, Robert E. Lee, Votum, Star Chance, Asp. Connaught, Good Conduct, Potranco, Royal Crusader, Sirocco and Victory Morn.

Inscassie is the only filly in the list.

RIVER THREAT TO REDS' GAME AGAINST CARDS

Flood Waters May Stop Cincinnati From Playing

By JOHN FRYE

CINCINNATI, April 22.—They postpone games for rain, snow, dust storms, cold, and, in disguised form, lack of attendance, almost anywhere in the baseball world, but this is the only town in the major leagues where a flood can be blamed.

The Cincinnati Reds, already four down on future doubleheaders, and the St. Louis Cardinals are in an exciting race today to see who gets to the ball park first, the teams or the old Ohio river backing up Mill creek. The game has been set up an hour to 2 p. m. in hopes of getting in nine innings. The two pitchers, Bucky Walters and Bill McGee, have to throw fast before water starts welling up through the outfield drains.

No game ever has been postponed here in modern times because of flood, although there have been some close calls, but tomorrow's game, and maybe Wednesday's look like the river's.

Pitched From Boat

Lee Grissom, who was liable to do anything, stood in a johnboat anchored 13 feet over the pitcher's mound during the 1937 flood and threw a ball over where he thought the home plate would be, but that was January.

The closest call on a postponement came in last year's opener. The teams just got off the field in time, and had to walk planks from the dugouts through the runways to the dressing rooms. Then the Reds went away for three days and when they came back, the flood was over.

The other river towns in the major leagues are safe. One day 30 years ago in Pittsburgh the outfielders played in ankle-deep water when the old Exposition park on the Allegheny river was flooded, but the Pirates moved to high-and-dry Forbes field in 1909.

Theatre Attractions

Louis Bromfield's story of the quaint characters in a boarding house in New York is the basis of Allan Sheridan's latest picture, "It All Came True."

Jeffrey Lynn has the role of her sweetheart, an undiscovered song writer who dreams of a penthouse for Sal, played by Ann Sheridan. A star singer who makes the grade. Una O'Connor and Jessie Busley are seen as the two sentimental old women who run the boarding house where the former's daughter and the latter's son turn up with a gangster hiding out from the law. The gangster is completely won by the two old women and offers to turn the place into a paying "Gay Nineties" night club.

Unexciting material which might have been dull in other hands than Bromfield's makes the story an entertaining film piece.

Quakers To Face Boardman, Lisbon In Track Events

Winner over Youngstown Rayen in a dual meet last Friday, Salem High school's track and field team will go after its second victory in a triangular meet against Boardman and Lisbon at Reilly stadium Tuesday afternoon.

The meet, starting at 4, will include 13 events. Salem and Boardman are expected to wage a close battle for honors, both teams having defeated Youngstown Rayen in meets earlier this season.

The Quakers are scheduled for two meets this week. In addition to the triangular affair tomorrow, they will face Louisville in a dual meet at Louisville Friday afternoon.

TRIBE INVADES ST. LOUIS CAMP

Indians Hope to Forget 12-2 Lacing In Series With Browns

ST. LOUIS, April 22.—The Cleveland Indians encamped here today for their first series of the season with the St. Louis Browns, hoping to work Lake Erie's chill out of their fingers and Detroit's 12-to-2 brand off the seat of their pants.

Willis Hudlin, oldest Tribesman in point of service, had the call for mound duty against Southpay Howard Mills. Hudlin had been slated for Saturday's chore which was called off by cold weather.

Bob Feller was served to the customers in the first Sunday game in the Cleveland stadium and he got pasted in the jaw both literally and via the score card.

The thermometer hovered around 40 in the lakefront horseshoe and held the crowd to 18,000. Feller couldn't get loosened up and he was hit his hardest since two seasons back. The Tigers teed off on him for six hits and six runs in three innings.

Escapes Injury

In the third frame, Barney McCosky, Detroit centerfielder, drove a ball back at Bob so fast one could hardly see it. It hit with a smack and a groan arose from the stands.

Here and There -- About Town

Home From Chicago

Robert Shallenberg, student in the mechanical engineering school of the University of Cincinnati, has returned to his home, on the Pidgeon rd., from Chicago where he spent the last eight weeks.

He was employed there in the museum of industry and science, in a practical application of his course, as demonstrator in the automotive division. He and his brother, Lowell, also a student at the university, will return to school next Sunday.

Mayor To Modernize

Mayor Norman Phillips intends to have his office modern even if the rest of the city hall building leans toward antiquity. A carpenter, offering to work out a relief bill, has been busying himself at the mayor's office, repairing windows and window sills. The office is to be papered and then venetian blinds will be placed at the windows.

Automobiles Collide

Cars driven by Kenneth Jones of 347 W. Seventh st., and Francis McNicol, 110 Woodland ave., figured in a minor collision at the intersection of E. State st. and an alley at the rear of the Baptist church Saturday morning, police reported.

Banker Will Speak

W. L. Hart, executive vice president of the Farmers National bank, will speak on the subject, "Inflation" at the Rotary club's luncheon meeting at noon Tuesday in the Memorial building. G. R. Deming will act as program chairman.

D. Of A. Card Party

Plymouth council No. 183, Daughters of America, will meet at 7:30 p. m. in the Maccabee hall for a business session. A benefit card party will be held at 9 with lunch served by the social committee.

Project Deadline Nears

City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff warned today that Wednesday would be the deadline for filing applications in the city's proposed WPA sidewalk project. Ninety-two applications already are on file.

Juveniles to Meet

The juveniles of Salem grange will hold their monthly business meeting Wednesday night in the grange hall. All members are urged to be present.

Recent Births

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Crawford of 150 Vine st., Columbiana, are parents of a daughter born Sunday in Salem City hospital.

DEATHS

MRS. MAUD CHRISTOPHER

Mrs. Maud Christopher, 67, died at 3 a. m. Sunday at her home on the Depot rd., of complications.

Born on the Depot rd. Sept. 9, 1872, Mrs. Christopher had lived in this vicinity all her life. She was a birthright member of the Friends church; also a member of the Willow Grove grange and the Vernal Grove Home-makers club.

Surviving are her husband, Samuel; two daughters, Mrs. Helen I. Bussey of Rocky River and Mrs. Stella Bartchey of near Salem; one sister, Mrs. R. M. Schwartz, of Parma; one brother, Warren White, of near Salem, and four grandchildren.

A funeral service will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Stark Memorial, in charge of Rev. C. P. Evans, pastor of the Christian church. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery.

Friends may call at the Stark Memorial Tuesday evening.

DAVID ALLEN HESLEP

David Allen Heslep, three month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Heslep, was found dead in bed this morning at the home, 279 N. Roosevelt ave. The child had suffered from asthma.

He was born in Salem Jan. 31, 1940, and besides his parents, leaves four brothers.

The funeral service will be held at 9 a. m. Wednesday at the Stark Memorial, with burial in Pine Grove cemetery, near Bergholz.

The family will meet friends at the Memorial Tuesday evening.

Dr. Metcalf Dead

WINTER PARK, Fla., April 22.—Dr. Maynard Metcalf, 72, former Oberlin college zoology professor who testified in the Scopes evolution trial at Dayton, Tenn., will be buried here. At the Scopes trial in 1925, he told the court he found no conflict between the Bible and evolution. Dr. Metcalf had served as president and secretary of the American Zoological society.
